Overview

Serials are used within the ERP for tracking of devices.

> Serial number is a sort of identification number of a particular device.

With the serial number, users can access calibration reports for a particular device. Serial numbers can also be used to track a particular product's stock transactions.

Serials are usually connected to a product and/or to a license.

Revision #6
Created 2024-05-08 08:41:04 UTC by Admin
Updated 2024-12-17 13:27:45 UTC by Admin